MEDICAL.

THE UNFORTUNATE

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET COR. COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing), and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

[illegible] GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that [he ha]s returned from visiting the principal Hospitals [of] Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial, [San F]rancisco where his old patients and those re[quiring] his services may find him. [illegible] Doctor has spared neither time nor money to [find] out new remedies and has returned with [illegible] facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

[illegible] many thousands of persons both male [and female] are there who are suffering out a miserable [existe]nce from the effects of secret indulgences, or [the v]irus absorbed into the system. Look at their emaciated and disfigured faces and their [illegible]-down constitutions disqualifying them for [the hap]piness of marriage or the enjoyment of life [illegible] horrid situation thousands suffer until death [illegible] the [illegible] Let parents, guardians, friends [illegible] who are suffering with any of these [illegible] annoying maladies, see that they are [illegible] for and cured before it be too late. Send them [dire]ctly to DR. GIBBON a physician who [has made] private diseases his especial study for years [and w]ho is certain to cure the most inveterate cases [with]out mercury or any injurious drugs. It is im[portan]t to those who are afflicted or to those who [are in]terested in the welfare of their friends to be [illegible] of the many pretended doctors who infest [illegible], publishing their skill in curing all diseases [illegible] days, imposing upon the public by using [the n]ames of eminent physicians from Europe and [illegible]. Be therefore careful and make strict [inquir]y, or you may fall into the hands of those [illegible]

Seminal Weakness.

[Semi]nal Weakness the consequence of self abuse, [s]olitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence is [indu]ced by the youth of both sexes to an almost [illimi]ted extent, producing with unerring certain[ty] [the] following train of morbid symptoms unless [comb]atted by scientific medical measures viz. [illegible] [co]untenances dark spots under the eyes, pain in [the he]ad, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling [of lea]ves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about [the lo]ins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, [illegible] of wit, loss of confidence, diffidence in [appro]aching strangers, a dislike to form new ac[quain]tances, disposition to shun society, loss of [mem]ory, [illegible] pimples and various erup[tions] about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, [illegible], consumption, nightsweats, monomania and [illegible] insanity. If relief be not obtained should [illegible] immediately either in person or by letter and [have] a cure effected by his new and scientific [illegible] [illegible] this [illegible] which never fails of effect[ing a] quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One [Hund]red Dollars to any person who will prove sa[tisfact]orily to him that he was cured of this com[plaint] by [illegible] of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

[Those] who [contem]plate marriage, who are suffer[ing un]der any of these fearful maladies, should not [illegible] the sacred responsibility resting upon them [illegible] to [illegible] complete relief. [Dr] GIBBON is [illegible] this, and will give to each [illegible] binding himself to ef[fect a r]adical and permanent cure or make no [charge].

Cured at Home.

[Persons] who [illegible] may be CURED AT HOME, [by writ]ing to Dr Gibbon stating case, [the] length of time the disease has continued, [and ha]ve medicines promptly forwarded free from [dama]ge and curiosity, to any part of the country [with fu]ll and plain directions. By inclosing [illegible] [illegible] coin, in registered letter through the Post-[office or] through Wells, Fargo & Co. a package of [medici]ne will be forwarded to any part of the [Union]. All [illegible] and strictly confidential.

[illegible] to the Unfortunate.

[Bewa]re of the San Francisco quacks and pre[tenders] who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe [the u]nwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose [names] used to be found in the daily and weekly [pa]pers of San Francisco and other places are [illegible] and became too lazy to work at their [trad]es are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper [illegible], intelligence office keepers, etc. The only [way to] avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will [cost] nothing and may save you many regrets, [and a]s, lacking physicians in eight cases out of [ten are] bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of [them u]nless you know who and what they are. Dr [Gibbon] does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus [c]ertificates, pretended patients letters, etc. [illegible] will satisfy persons who may call at his [office o]f his ability to treat diseases that he proposes [to cure].

THE LOUISIANA OUTRAGE.

Special Message from the President.

He Unqualifiedly Approves of Sheridan's Course.

And Justifies It on the Plea of "Peculiar Circumstances."

The Congressional Committee Flatly Contradict Grant.

Action by the Legislatures of Different States.

The Latest from New Orleans.

Grant's [illegible] to Congress.

W[illegible], Jan. 13.—The P[illegible] in his spe[illegible]cial message refers to the state of lawlessness and blood [illegible] in Louisiana since reconstruction and claims that a conspiracy was formed to carry the election of 1872 against the Republicans. He re[illegible]vives the history of Kellogg's action in the U. S. circuit court against Warmoth and claims that the proceedings were according to the [illegible] con[illegible]stitution to prevent the denial of suffrage on ac[illegible]count of color, &c. He says Kellogg was cheated out of 20,000 votes by the manipulation of election machinery by Warmoth and others. He refers to outrages on Republicans in various parts of the State and the displacement and murder of Kellogg offi[illegible]cials, rehearsing the [illegible] and the Coushatta troubles at length. He recounts the history of [illegible] New Orleans and quotes newspaper articles and the Shreveport proclamation to show the spirit of the [illegible] of Kellogg. Re[illegible]ferring to the acts of the returning board he says he has no evidence that they did not act in accord[illegible]ance with the law. He justifies the late military in[illegible]terference by the peculiar circumstances of the case [illegible] the course of Sheridan. [illegible] that the [illegible] of [illegible] has added to the troubles.

A[illegible] of the Louisiana Committee's Report.

CHICAGO, Jan 13.—A Cincinnati Gazette Washing[illegible]ton special says the following are the leading points in the report of the congressional sub-com[illegible]mittee on Louisiana affairs:

The committee are unable to find that Republi[illegible]can colored voters were intimidated during the last campaign in Louisiana. From evidence submitted to them

The Election was Exceptionally Fair

And honest. This is concurred in by all the mem[illegible]bers of the committee. Had Phelps and Potter been alone on the committee they would have reported that instead of Republicans being intimidated by Democrats the reverse was the fact.

The committee report that

The Conservatives Un[illegible] [illegible] Carried the State

By a considerable majority, and elected a majority of the Legislature. Individual members of the committee say that of this there can be no question. The failure of the Freedmen's bank and the collec[illegible]tion of poll tax from negroes (which had never been done before since the war) caused

[illegible]

From the polls. Besides planters for the first time tried the effect of persuasion on the negroes they employ [illegible] urge the hands but argued with them and demonstrated that the interests of the two races are common. As a result of this policy many colored people were induced to vote the White League ticket. Many se[illegible] before the [illegible]

C[illegible] in Strong [illegible]

The action of the returning board as illegal and in[illegible]defensible. The returning board had no able de[illegible]fenders before the committee.

The committee will report that the character of the [illegible] League has been very much misunder[illegible]stood throughout the North. It is not a secret organization but it numbers among its members hundreds of the best men in the city of New Or[illegible]leans [illegible] in business who would not countenance lawl[illegible] of any kind.

The majority of the full committee will sign the [illegible] report. [illegible] inclined to be neutral. Hoar and Fry will not approve [illegible]

[illegible] Pinchback Elected Senator.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 13.—[illegible] Kellogg [illegible] a Senatorial election to [illegible] The movement was so sudden that Pinchback's oppo[illegible] [illegible] Pinchback was placed in nomination and [illegible] the vote resulted Senate, 18 to 5. House 48 to 7. A joint [illegible] will be held [illegible] for the official can[illegible]vass.

The re-election of Pinchback crushes the hopes of several [illegible]. The [illegible] House [illegible] is said to be [illegible] The [illegible] that they will now favor reconstruction.

ST LOUIS Jan. 12.—Gov Harding was inaugur[illegible]ated at Jefferson City to-day. The inaugural mes[illegible]sage is devoted wholly to state [illegible] except a reference to the Louisiana troubles. It protests against the unconstitutional [illegible] employment of U S military force as a precedent dangerous to Ameri[illegible]can liberties.

Anything to Beat Pinchback.

CHICAGO Jan 13.—A Tribune New Orleans special written last night says the coup d'etat of Pinchback yesterday created great excitement among politi[illegible]cians. A long [illegible] Pinchback's opponents of whom the strongest are Kellogg and Packard was held last night. It is reported that the former offered the Democrats the organization of the House with Wiltz as speaker if they will unite with [illegible] to defeat Pinchback [illegible] session to-day. The Democrats were to hold a caucus this [illegible] to consider the matter.

A [illegible] special confirms the above rumor and mentions Packard as the probable candidate of the [illegible] Alex. Allen.

The [illegible] State Con[illegible] [illegible] the Louisiana Demo[illegible]

C[illegible] Jan. 12.—Among the resolutions adopt[illegible]ed by the Republican State convention are the fol[illegible]lowing: Declaring unalterable opposition to the el[illegible] [illegible] third term asserting an earnest desire for the same [illegible] prosperity and protection in the South as the North; condemning maladministration wherever on the part of either white or black representatives; denouncing all lawlessness and intimidation by White Leaguers, and calling on Congress to give peace and a Republican form of government to Louisiana without delay; condemning the use of the military power of the nation for any purpose not clearly defined in the constitution, at the same time denouncing armed organizations in the [illegible] States, particularly in Louisiana as the chief source of all their troubles.

The Legislature of Pennsylvania on the [illegible]

HARRISBURG Jan 12.—The House of Representa[illegible]tives to-day by a strict party vote of 82 to [illegible] adopted a resolution denouncing the President's abuse of power in Louisiana, protesting against his action as a precedent imperiling free govern[illegible]ment, expressing sympathy for the people of Lou[illegible]isiana and counselling them to be patient and for[illegible]bearing.

Similar Resolutions in the New York Legislature.

ALBANY Jan 12.—Resolutions were introduced in the Senate to-day condemning military interfer[illegible]ence in Louisiana. They were laid on the table to await the [illegible] of the congressional committee.

THE TILTON BEECHER CASE.—New York, Jan. [illegible].—At 11 15 this morning Shearman, of Beech[illegible]er's counsel consented to go on with the case notwithstanding the absence of the senior counsel. The gallery and courtroom were crowded and all the corridors leading thereto. One woman heavily veiled was present. An[illegible]drew Mackay, a juror was on the stand at its adjournment yesterday. In answer to ques[illegible]tions of counsel, [illegible] he was a real estate broker and insurance agent, had not read any of the published statements, had not formed nor expressed an opinion, had no impression either way, knew no more of the case than a child unborn. At the request of Beecher's counsel the court granted an hour's time to investigate Mackay's statements.

Charles B Westman dealer in telegraph in[illegible]struments, and Henry Thayer, employe in a stove foundry were accepted as the fourth and fifth jurors.

New York Dec 6.—W Donnes a retired farmer and George Hall, carpenter have been accepted as sixth and seventh jurors in the Tilton Beecher case.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Blake, the Absconding Broker, in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO Jan 13.—Some time ago Wm Blake, a member of the California stock board absconded taking with him $16 000 be[illegible]longing to people who had trusted him with money and stock. About three weeks ago Sheriff Smith of Cowlitz county W T tele[illegible]graphed Chief Cockrill that he had Blake in custody and would hold him until an officer with the necessary papers was sent for the prisoner. Detective John Coffey was sent after the man who arrived with him from Portland yesterday morning. Before leaving Portland an unsuccessful attempt was made to have the prisoner released on a writ of habeas corpus. When arrested by Sheriff Smith the man said he was an absconder. When he passed into the custody of Detective Coffey the prisoner reiterated the statement and further stated what disposition he had made of the money. Soon after the officer arrived with the prison[illegible]er Mr Smiley, President of the Board, was sent for to identify the prisoner when he made the discovery that the prisoner is not Blake but a man who looks so much like him that he might pass for a twin brother of the prisoner. When questioned about the matter he stated that his name is Wm Jones, and pretended to be Blake in order to get a free passage to this city. The authorities will have to turn the prisoner out.

The schooner Osceola Capt Struckmeyer, came in on the 10th inst during a strong northwest wind. She dropped anchor but dragged it and before she could make fast struck a rock and stove a hole in her. The crew tried to keep her afloat by bailing the water but the captain gave it up and conclu[illegible]ded to beach her if she was afloat the next morning. On the morning of the 11th she lay on her beam ends and will be a total loss.

Fire in Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO Jan 13.—A fire in Oakland early to-day burned Glasscock's building and the Parker House. Nothing was saved from either building excepting a little furniture from the Parker House and fixtures from sa[illegible]loons on the first floor. Many lodgers in the Parker House were obliged to escape in their night clothes. The building next east was also burned. In the Glasscock building were ac[illegible]cumulated a mass of documents, maps, etc., relative to land matters in Alameda not on record which is a great public loss. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. It was rumored that a lodger in the Parker House had perished in the flames, but nothing has been found on which to base a report.

Interior California.

NAPA Jan 13.—The schooner Jesse Fi[illegible] took fire last night and sank in Napa [illegible] with 200 barrels of lime on board, a total loss.

CHICO Jan 13.—Prospects for a large yield of wheat were never better in this section than to-day. The continued dry weather is not affecting it as yet. Much more land is sown, and the farmers are still sowing. The sum[illegible]mer fallow of which there is a large area, needs but the usual spring rains to insure a large crop. It is raining now, and the wind is in the southwest.

TEHAMA Jan 13.—It has been raining since 3 P M.

SAN JOSE Jan 13.—The dry weather has prevented the farmers in this vicinity from putting in their full crop of grain [illegible] of that planted has not come up but if there is hereafter plenty of rain the planting will be [illegible] and a full crop of grain be har[illegible]vested. Probably no injury has been done that an abundance of rain will not remove.

SALINAS Jan 13.—There is under cultiva[illegible]tion in Salinas valley about 95 000 acres of which 70 000 has already been plowed, 25 000 [illegible] and 20 000 acres already up and gr[illegible]ing finely. Should we have rain the remain[illegible]der will be sown and with a moderate rain[illegible]fall an excellent crop will be the result of the season's planting.

The rainfall up to date has b[illegible]

Weather cloudy with good indications of rain. The wind had been blowing from the south for the past two days. The same may be said of Monterey and vicinity with the ex[illegible]ception of a very much smaller area.

Los Angeles [illegible]

LOS ANGELES Jan 13.—Houghton's bill to change the route of the Southern Pacific Rail[illegible]road so it will run through Cajon pass and leave Los Angeles nearly 100 miles westward, excites general comment and the universal sentiment of the people is condemnation of the Railroad Co in thus attempting to avoid the fulfillment of their contract with Los Angeles city and county. The Company have received large sums in the shape of subsidy from the people of Los Angeles valley, all given with the express understanding that the main line of the Southern Pacific Railroad should run through this city. The universal expression here is that should Houghton's bill pass an attachment shall be made forthwith on all property owned by the Company in this county for the purpose of recovering money paid the Company on the contract which it is now seeking to nullify.

The first public train to Anaheim will be dispatched to-morrow morning.

The struggle between the Southern Pacific and Los Angeles and Independence Railroad Company for the possession of Cajon pass, re[illegible]sulted in favor of the last named Com[illegible] Engineer Crawford took possession of the pass one hour in advance of the Southern Pacific Company.

The weather continues unfavorable for rain. [Here the line broke.—OPERATOR.]

MONTANA.

HELENA Jan 13.—The weather is clear the thermometer ranging this morning through[illegible]out the Territory from 35° to 45° below zero.

The supreme court now in session at Vir[illegible]ginia City Montana has ordered a re-canvass of the vote of last election regarding capital law, it having been proven that the vote of Meagher county had been transposed. The board re-canvassed the vote to-day, the result showing a majority of votes for capital law. It was approved and the acting Governor has issued a proclamation declaring the seat of government of the Territory removed from Virginia to Helena.

Snow and Bitter Cold at Salem.

SALEM Jan 13.—It commenced snowing at an early hour this morning and continued during the day with a high wind from the north and bitter cold. The oldest inhabitant has no recollection of anything like it. Snow is now six inches deep and still snowing. The water pipes were all frozen up this morning.

BOSTON LIBERALITY.—The Boston Com[illegible]monwealth thinks Boston is so in the habit of giv[illegible]ing money it cannot help it if it would. It instances as follows: In addition to the many private objects of charity the citizens have responded to the following calls during the past twelve months: Christian Union building $140 000; Louisiana relief fund $44 224 54; Mill river relief fund $25 000; Kansas relief fund $6 510 2[illegible]; Tuscumbia relief fund $1 408 08 — making a total of $216 202 87. In[illegible]cluding the amount already subscribed to the Agassiz memorial, Harvard Medical School and Sumner memorial the subscriptions will approximate to $500 000.

A man was seen coming out of a Texas newspaper office with one eye gouged out, his nose spread all over his face like a piece of raw beef, and one of his ears chewed off. To a policeman who interviewed him he replied "I didn't like an article that peared in the pa[illegible]per last week and I went in ter see the man who writ it. He war there, stranger."

STATE BOARD ON EDUCATION

Pursuant to a call the State Board of Educa[illegible]tion met at the executive office in Salem January 12th. Present—Gov L F Grover, Hon S F Chadwick and Dr L L Rowland super[illegible]intendent of public instruction.

It was ordered that the superintendent of the Oregon Institute for the Blind be authorized to make inquiries as to what mechanical em[illegible]ployments and instruction therein can be pro[illegible]vided for the pupils in said Institution and re[illegible]port the same to the board.

The salary of Rev P S Knight the princi[illegible]pal and speaking teacher of the Oregon Deaf and Dumb Asylum, was fixed at $800 per an[illegible]num.

The salary of Mr John Gray financial agent of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, was fixed at $300 per annum.

The salary of Mrs John Gray matron of the Deaf Mute school, was made $80 per month, instead of $75.

It was ruled by the board that the children of all legal residents of any district, are entitled to the benefit of the school fund of that dis[illegible]trict whether those children's names were in[illegible]cluded in the previous enumeration of school [ch]ildren in the district or not.

H S Stevens is now in possession of a cer[illegible]tificate in fact the certificate of election as Delegate to Congress from Arizona Territory, which was granted and given him by the Gov[illegible]ernor, after the votes were canvassed by the Secretary of the Territory. But C C Bean hopes to be able to "bust Stevens out" with his hatful of Little Colorado affidavits and proof, which he or his friends say he can get, that Stevens was once drummed out of the United States army for general worthlessness.

The Las Cruces Borderer says it is informed, upon good authority, that there is an effort being made to join together New Mexico and Arizona, so as to make the State movement more certain. This would doubtless be a good thing for New Mexico, and perhaps there are New Mexicans who delude themselves with the idea that the combination can be effected, but we are of the opinion that few, if any, Arizonans will take kindly to the project, for they know full well that Arizona's mines alone will soon win for her a place among the States of the Union.

A REMARKABLE RECOVERY

SUDDEN CURE OF A MAN WHO HAD BEEN DEAF AND DUMB FOR NINE MONTHS.

About nine months ago a young man named George Hansen was seriously ill in this city with the typhoid fever, and when he recov[illegible]ered it was with the total loss of his hearing and his power of speech. This terrible calam[illegible]ity rendered him almost wild, and for a time the contemplation of the termination of his life was not an unfrequent thing with him.

Through the exertions of friends Mr Han[illegible]sen was employed to [illegible] in copying the rec[illegible]ords of the Sixth ward at Hastings. Last Saturday night Mr Hansen complained to his room-mate, Mr W Hoyt that he felt a very unpleasant [illegible] in his throat and a painful buzzing in his head. He had the whiskers shaved from his chin, and tried various applications, but they were of no avail—the pressing continued and the buzzing did not diminish in the least. Hoyt contin[illegible]ued with him till about 11 o'clock at night. During this time, when Mr Hansen obtained some temporary relief from his pain and suf[illegible]fering, he wrote on his slate that he felt that his speech would that night be restored to him or he would die.

About 3 o'clock Sunday morning, after he had recovered from a terrible spasm occa[illegible]sioned by the pain, he asked Hoyt to take a tube that had been used to inject a kind of powder into his throat put it to his ear, and speak in an ordinary tone. He did so, when Hansen replied in a natural voice though without knowing that he had heard or spoken. He complained of the buzzing and cracking in his head, though the pain seemed to be de[illegible]creasing.

A little while after this Mr Hoyt left the room and was absent several minutes and during his absence Hansen had one of the severest attacks that he had been suffering, and during its continuance he discharged con[illegible]siderable offensive matter from his throat. From this discharge he received instant and complete relief to the pressure in his throat and to the buzzing in his head, and when his companion, Mr Hoyt, entered the room he was astonished by being greeted by Hansen exclaiming "Well, Hoyt, how are you?"

The restoration was so complete, so sudden, and so unexpected that both Hansen and his companion hardly knew what to make of it and could hardly realize that it was a fact. They talked it over, experimented and tried in a variety of ways to prove that it was a fact that Hansen could hear and talk. They finally concluded that the news was too good to keep and so they took the morning train to the city to let their friends here know of the good fortune that had befallen the sufferer. Im[illegible]mediately upon arriving here the two went to the residence of John B Oliver a friend of Mr Hansen, and surprised him. Mr Oliver had been to Hastings on Friday, and had there conversed with the sufferer by writing on a slate and was, of course, astounded to hear his friend talking as glibly as though nothing had interfered with his ability to speak. From Mr Oliver's residence the two went around town surprising their friends with the good news. Probably there never was so happy a man in St Paul as was Mr Hansen last Sun[illegible]day. For nine months he has been without the power of hearing or speaking and op[illegible]pressed with the terrible expectation that he would never again be able to either hear or speak.—St Paul Pioneer, Dec. 27th.

ROME.

THE PAST AND THE PRESENT—THE SPIRITUAL AND THE CIVIL POWER OF THE POPE—WHAT THE RESISTLESS MARCH OF INTELLECT HAS ACCOM[illegible]PLISHED

In the midst of this common quarrel with the Church of Rome—while Bismarck is hand[illegible]ling his battle axe against the Church, as Coeur de Lion handled his for it, while Gladstone is fighting Manning with paper pellets while Bishops and Emperor are waging war in Bra[illegible]zil, and Popery and no Popery turns the tide of battle in Spain—one mighty fact stands out, clear limned and bright against the lurid back[illegible]ground of the past. The fact that the domi[illegible]nance of the spiritual power over the civil is gone forever.

The wildest dream that crazed romancist ever penned smiles into every day reality beside the contrast which the present and the past p[illegible]t in this particular. Instances crowd upon the memory, but two will amply suffice. Eight centuries ago—it lacks but three years of being exactly eight centuries, with the next month—in the depth of a terrible winter, the Emperor of Germany, after exhausting the resources of his realm in a vain battle with Gregory VII, crossed the icy Alps to beg with utmost hu[illegible]miliation, the pardon of the Pope. For three days, clothed in the white raiment of a peni[illegible]tent, cold and fasting, this haughty monarch stood amid the dreary snow before the gates of Canossa, pleading for the forgiveness of the inexorable pontiff—the Vice-Regent of Christ upon earth.

Our second scene is amid the lagunes of Ve[illegible]nice, under the [illegible] Lions of St. Mark. The fierce [illegible] of [illegible] with Pope Alexander III has culminated in the de[illegible]feat of the Emperor. In the place of St. Mark sits his Holiness arrayed in his pontifical robes, with the high dignitaries of his court, and the ambassadors of the powers of the world grouped about him. Humbly, as a whipped child, the [illegible] strips off his mantle, kneels, and kisses the feet of the Pope. Intoxicated with his awful triumph, and gloating over the agony of the grand warrior the Pontiff places his foot on the neck of his prostrate enemy, and exclaims in a loud voice "Thou shalt tread upon the asp and the basilisk, the lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under foot." "Not to thee, but to Peter," cried the outraged and agonized Emperor. "To both me and Peter" replied the Pope, with another pressure of his heel upon the bowed neck.

And now how changed the scene. Stripped of his temporalities without a friend or an ally among the rulers of the earth, with a hostile king in the seven hilled city the aged prelate sits trembling upon his throne, with nothing but feeble remonstrances for Bismarck, and still more feeble epithets for Gladstone. And what is the secret, what the cause of this marvelous change? Not the force of arms, and not the voice of battle. It is the growth of intellect—the resistless march of science. The Popes have fallen upon the battle-field of their choice. The sovereign power that reads the earth the center of the universe, that for[illegible]bade that it should move about the sun, that murdered Hypatia, anathematized Copernicus, burned Bruno at the stake, and imprisoned Galileo has been finally [illegible] at every point by its opponents, and now finds its pow[illegible]er confined to a daily narrowing circle of ig[illegible]norance and superstition.

And to this opponent—the intellectual growth of the people—the Pope and his cause may well be left. Bismarck may persecute, and Gladstone write pamphlets, for their own private ends, but the fall of the Papacy will be neither hastened nor retarded thereby. An[illegible]imal force has never yet availed anything against a great religion and never will. It falls, if it falls at all, before something infin[illegible]itely more powerful—the resistless march of intellect.—Cincinnati Times.

THE SEWING MACHINE SWINDLE.—The sew[illegible]ing machine companies are again petitioning Cong. for an extension of what is known as the Wilson patent, which is simply a contriv[illegible]ance for feeding the machine. The original patent was granted twenty five years ago, and about eight years ago extended by the Com[illegible]missioners of Patents. The control of it is now in the hands of four companies, to whom it was sold by Wilson for the sum of fifty th[illegible] and dollars. The original patentee and the companies who now own the patent have made enormous fortunes out of it, and an ex[illegible]tension would be simply a charter authorizing them to charge six times as much for a sewing machine as it costs. The average price now is about fifty five dollars. If Congress shall do as it did last year, deny the extension sewing machines can be purchased at from twelve to twenty dollars, and at those rates leave a fair margin of profit to the manufacturer. The poorer classes and especially poor working women, are directly interested in this matter, and it is to be hoped that Congress will listen to them rather than to the rich monopolists now hanging around the lobbies and the com[illegible]mittee-rooms.—W[illegible]

NO COLOR LINE IN MASONRY.—The colored Mason is making his claims for full and free recognition. One colored member of a Connecticut lodge [illegible] lecturing on "The legitimacy of colored [illegible] in the United States" and having gone into the history of the thing finds that [illegible] was introduced among the colored men of this country by the initiating [illegible] and raising of thirteen of their number into a traveling lodge attached to General Gage's army sta[illegible]tioned at Boston, on March 6, 1775. In Sep[illegible]tember, 1784 the Duke of Cumberland, grand master of the Grand Lodge of England, grant[illegible]ed a warrant for the constructing of African Lodge No 459. In 1792 the master of this lodge instituted another in Philadelphia. In 1827 the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania was called into being and in 1847 the National Grand Lodge was formed. It is also claimed that some one hundred thousand colored brothers in the United States are lodgemen.

STARTLING PHOTOGRAPHY.—An application of photography which is aptly described as startling has been hit upon by an English amateur whose name is not given. The inven[illegible]tor claims to have discovered a method of fix[illegible]ing the image of an object on a sensitized plate not more than half an inch in diameter, an impression from which can be afterwards en[illegible]larged to the necessary size. The plate is fixed into an ordinary locket or keepsake hanging from a watch chain and can be suddenly ex[illegible]posed by a touch of the finger, on entering a room and an image taken of a picture or of a person without any one besides the operator being aware of it.

THURSDAY MORNING JAN 14 18 5

THE DUTY OF ALL GOOD CITIZENS

Every day since the army of the United States was employed to disrupt the Legislature of Louisiana, the administration organ in this city has filled its columns with flaming appeals to the sectional prejudices of our people. By reviving the bitter memories of the late unhappy war, it has sought to persuade its readers that the people of the South are now suffering a just and legal penalty for the crime of insurrection against the Federal Government. With undisguised hatred for every Southern man who will not vote the Republican ticket and submit without a struggle to the wicked usurpation of men who have no color of right to rule over [illegible] save the right of the strongest, the Bulletin calls upon the Republicans of Oregon to sanction one of the most pernicious violations of the Constitution of [illegible] any administration has been guilty.

It is not our intention just now to review the circumstances which inspire the Bulletin's [illegible] utterances. The time for this has not yet come. When the issue between President Grant and the better [illegible] and more [illegible] leaders of the Republican party shall have been [illegible] up, it will be time for the Bulletin to commence its cries for help. This issue is plainly hinted at in our morning dispatches. It is sure to come, and the Republican party is just as sure to side with [illegible] the President. Our present purpose is rather to admonish all good [illegible] irrespective of political creed, that [illegible] involved in the Louisiana controversy is not, or rather should not be [illegible] a party affair. It goes deeper than [illegible] below all parties to the very foundations of the government, presenting the plain issue: has the Federal authority a right under the Constitution to interfere in the domestic affairs of the [illegible] the extent of pronouncing upon the legality of the organization of local legislative bodies and enforcing its judgment with the military power under the pretence of guaranteeing a republican form of government to the State? This is by no means all the issue involved in the Louisiana controversy, but it is sufficient for present discussion.

Under the Constitutional provision just [illegible] to, the first vital question is: how [illegible] Federal authority to determine when the Republican institutions of a [illegible] are in peril? What kind of a showing must the Governor of a State make in [illegible] to obtain the [illegible] are pledged by the Constitution to this guarantee? These are questions which may be discussed by [illegible] minded men of all parties dispassionately and without bitterness.

We conceive it to be the duty of all [illegible] to [illegible] themselves thoroughly on all matters connected with this unfortunate controversy and render judgment [illegible] the testimony. To do this they must consider Louisiana as she is, not as she was fifteen years ago. They [illegible] first inquire into the justice of [illegible] or Kellogg's appeal for more troops, and pass upon the discretion of the President in granting them. Did Kellogg make such a showing as is required [illegible] of the Constitution above quoted? Was the State of Louisiana [illegible] domestic [illegible] to be [illegible]? After [illegible] inquiry: Was the invasion of the United States [illegible] upon [illegible] of the House of Representatives [illegible] under the Constitution?

We invite the attention of the Bulletin [illegible] questions. In other articles we [illegible] to discuss them, and [illegible] in all their bearings, so [illegible] we are able. It is well, [illegible] for Republicans to bear in mind the fact that many of the most distinguished [illegible] in their party differ widely from the President, and character [illegible] and unlawful [illegible] of power.

CONGRESSIONAL JOBS.

[illegible] the early days of the present [illegible]. Now is the time the [illegible] and jobbers congregate in Washington, and fill the halls and re[illegible], each intent on his scheme, but all of them ready to form combinations for mutual profit. There will be the notorious Ben Holladay with his claim of $[illegible] for pretended lost mules. The peculiarity of this claim is in that [illegible] Indians [illegible] to run off Holladay's horses and mules just when [illegible] scarce, the [illegible] very bad and the mails heavy. In those days the "[illegible]" were so troublesome that every once in a while Holladay procured the overland mails sent by the Isthmus. Wh[illegible] y soft thing for Benjamin.

Would it not be well for Congress to [illegible] into this job—for that it is a job of the greatest kind is certain? Would it not also be well to ascertain how many fines he should have paid, and whether while he was receiving enormous compensation for a mail service only half performed he was not paid large sums of money where instead fines should have [illegible]?

We suppose the notorious Chorpenning will be on hand, but we apprehend that claims like his will meet with little favor at the hands of the present Postmaster General. Creswell's old law partner had a good thing while Mr Jewell's predecessor was in office and controlled the payment of a vast number of claims like Holladay's and Chorpenning's. But Creswell has departed, and with him, we trust, his old partner. In his place the [illegible] has an honest and able officer. It is to be hoped that Congress will carefully scrutinize every claim for back pay. It has too many ugly jobs already under investigation. No man can vote for such outrageous jobs as that Holladay is preparing to push, and go back to his constituency with clean hands. No Representative who supports them by word and deed can hope for a resurrection from the political annihilation which is in store for him.

The New York Sun, replying to a correspondent who writes for information concerning that South American billionaire of whom the OREGONIAN spoke two weeks ago, says: Dr Souza Cabral (the Diamond King) and George Arthur Throckmorton of Kentucky (the bridegroom of the occasion) are real personages. This will be a bitter dose to thousands who had fondly hoped they were sold.

DANIEL O'CONNELL

A SKETCH OF THE GREATEST OF IRISHMEN

I saw him on the morning he received the sentence. He came alone in the little robing room where I used to keep my wig and gown and donned his professional habiliments—his silken robes of Queen's counsel and [illegible] wig. As he exchanged for this the curly [illegible] brown [illegible] he usually wore I observed his head was entirely devoid of hair. He was bald as the first Cæsar.

When the Chief Justice Penn—father pronounced sentence—he had been the agitator's personal enemy and professional rival through his whole career—I noticed a bitter smile flit over the old man's face. O'Connell then retired through a side door where Colonel Browne, the Chief Commissioner of Police, was waiting to receive him. Browne, who is alive still, told me that he had his own carriage drawn close up to the outer door into which he handed the State prisoner, taking a seat by his side and drawing up the blinds. Crowds of frieze clad peasants lined the quays, an angry scowl was upon every face, and an infuriated multitude surged through the streets of the metropolis.

THE MORNING WAS GLOOMY, thick flakes of snow were beginning to fall, deep execrations filled the air as the popular favorite was borne slowly away, for the coachman was unable to move his horses faster than at a foot-pace. Observing this state of affairs, and that the angry mob was pressing close upon the carriage, Colonel Browne, who in his time had led more than one forlorn hope, told me that he felt the emergency of the situation. He took out a case of loaded pistols, cocked and laid them upon his knee. When O'Connell saw this he smiled. "A wise precaution," he said, "but useless. If I were only to raise my hand you would be in eternity." And these words which he uttered were full of significant meaning. When its passions are aroused a Dublin mob is very terrible. It took a Chief Justice out of his carriage once and tore him to pieces on the spot.

ONE WORD FROM O'CONNELL

on that morning would have caused a revolution. Formidable military precautions had been taken—the troops were under arms, cannon were so placed as to command the thoroughfare—but I do believe that if the signal had been given the whole country would have arisen, and to annihilate an entire nation by grape-shot would not have been an easy matter. The prisoner was conveyed in safety to Kilmainham, but for many days afterward the prison was surrounded by an infuriated throng. There never, I believe, lived in the history of any country a man who had the same extraordinary hold over the affections of an entire nation as O'Connell had over the Irish. He was the greatest popular leader known. No one who reads these pages can I apprehend form any adequate idea of what those monster meetings were which this man called together and inflamed with his fiery vigorous eloquence. From the summit of some hill where the tribune took up a commanding position, you could have seen, thousands deep, of vigorous men, (the stature of the Irish peasant usually averages six feet,) whose eager upturned faces vibrated with every emotion called forth by the impassioned orator. These were the manner of men this tribune led. They believed every word which fell from his lips, and they would have followed him to the cannon's mouth, or to the gates of a place which is unmentionable. And when I think of his unbounded influence, the formidable organization he had created, with the priesthood at his back and through them the entire populace, and remember how he failed in attaining the object of his ambition, and contrast with that organization the puny movement in favor of home rule, which is but a repeal of the Union in another form, led by an unstable Queen's counsel, then all I can say upon the subject to my countrymen is—don't they wish they may get it.

THE SERRIED AND COMPACT RANKS

NOTWITHSTANDING GRATTAN'S ASSERTION

to the contrary, I believe O'Connell's patriotism was a genuine sentiment. He incurred much obloquy by collecting rent in pence from the people, which amounted often to many thousands a year, but, then it must be remembered that he gave up a large professional income in order to be enabled to devote his entire energies to the redress of what he thought their grievances. He was admitted on all hands to be the best lawyer of his day. He could drive, as he boasted, a coach and four through any act of Parliament. No jury could withstand his influence. He played upon their passions, their sympathies, and their prejudices as if they were the chords of some musical instrument. He was the greatest verdict getter at the Irish bar, and his subtlety in an argument would baffle the ingenuity of the subtlest judicial intellect.

THIS MAN HAD WITHIN HIS GRASP

the very highest distinctions open to honorable professional ambition—he might have been Lord Chancellor, with a peerage—but he threw them all away to follow a chimera, and the lesson which his career teaches should be laid to heart by any professional agitator who tries to follow his footsteps. The end of all was that he died at last broken hearted and worn out in a foreign country. But who shall say he was not sincere? Notwithstanding the enormous sums which passed through his hands in the entire patronage of Ireland which the Government placed at his disposal, he died not worth one shilling and was in circumstances of pecuniary embarrassment during the latter part of his life.

FIVE HUNDRED FEET INTO THE SEA

A ROYAL RIVAL OF SAM PATCH

[Washington Corr. Dec. 21 S F Bulletin.]

King Kalakaua (whose name is variously pronounced here as 'Kill-a-cow' or 'Calico') gave a very informal 'reception' to some newspaper men last night on his return from the President's State dinner and, according to one of the local chroniclers of the occasion, the following conversation occurred between His Majesty and a knight of the pencil:

* * * * * * *

"But perhaps, Sire, you will come back again."

"I shall return to America during the Centennial exhibition, and I think there will be many crowned heads here. If my information is correct it is the intention of the royalty of Europe to have many of its highest representatives here. But I want to be free and enjoy myself. During my next visit I propose to challenge American single-oarsmen in a race. I may not win but I'll try. I know I am a good trainer but maybe I have become too corpulent to row in a race."

"Then you are fond of athletic sports."

"Hardly anything suits me so much. We have in Hawaii several excellent base ball clubs, and as swimmers we are proficient. I think nothing of making a leap into the water from a precipice 500 feet high."

"Five hundred feet high! Why, Your Majesty, that beats Sam Patch."

"From what height did he leap?" the King asked.

Minister Pierce was appealed to for information, and if he was correct he thought it somewhere in the neighborhood of 120 feet. At this the King could not repress a smile and said:

"Why, gentlemen, I should think nothing of jumping into the water from a precipice 1,000 feet above it. Even little girls jump from heights of three and four hundred feet from the water."

The King described the position assumed in the leaps and in the midst of a very pleasant conversation the visit was terminated.

A VAMPIRE.—Prince Nicholas Borolajesk, a Servian noble, died the other day in the Rue d'Amsterdam in Paris. He had been obliged to leave his own country, where he could no longer remain from the idea among the country people that he belonged to a family of vampires, the eldest sons of which for three generations came out of their graves to suck the blood of living people. It is said that five days before his death he was conversing with his landlord and told him it would be well after his decease to remove his heart so as to prevent his rising from the grave.

It seems evident that the prospects of Voorhees for the U S Senate from Indiana have materially improved within a few days. He is very confident of success and his friends are jubilant.

THE LOUISIANA OUTRAGE

THE SENATE DISCUSSION CONTINUED—SENATOR HAMILTON TAKES THE STAND—[illegible]

WASHINGTON, Jan 7—The Senate [illegible] consideration of Thurman's resolution in regard to Louisiana matters.

Hamilton of Maryland addressed the Senate at length in favor of the resolution. In reply to a remark by Howe yesterday as to what the Senate would do in case the President declined to answer, he said [illegible] Congress had a remedy. The army did not belong to the President but to the people, and if the President used the army for improper purposes Congress could disband it, it could refuse to vote supplies for it, and could disperse every armed soldier in the land. Congress could remove every vessel of war now before New Orleans. It required no articles of impeachment to do this, no two thirds, but a simple majority of the people's representatives. That was the remedy Congress had against a despotic representative. Speaking of Kellogg's application to the military, he said the Governor of a State had nothing to do with organizing the Legislature and had no right to call on any one to assist in doing so or to expel any one from the Legislature. He denounced the stories of Southern outrages as electioneering stories which were now [illegible]. In reply to a question of Logan as to whether he justified Penn in overthrowing the State government in 1874 he said according to the report of Senator Logan there was no State government to overthrow—referring to the report on Louisiana submitted by Logan last session which declared there were so many frauds that neither Kellogg nor McEnery were legally elected. [Laughter on the floor and applause in the galleries.]

Sargent gave notice that in case of further applause he would move the galleries be cleared.

Shortly after Hamilton was again applauded by the galleries and Sargent moved to clear the galleries.

After considerable discussion Sargent accepted a substitute for his motion offered by Thurman directing that officers be placed in the galleries to arrest any person violating the rule which was adopted.

Hamilton continued his remarks and referring to Sheridan's dispatch recommending the declaring of certain persons banditti and to have them tried by court martial he said military commissions would forever remain a blot upon the fair fame of American liberty and he hoped they were things of the past. He declared that if it had come to this that the President of the United States could issue his orders to organize State Legislatures and appoint General Sheridan to execute them, orders the same President could disperse this Congress at the point of the bayonet. At the conclusion of Hamilton's remarks Bayard obtained the floor but the Senate went into executive session and soon adjourned.

HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Jan 7—White asked leave to offer a resolution thanking the President for the prompt and efficient measures adopted by him for the prevention of violence and the maintenance of order in Louisiana and pledging the hearty co-operation of the House in sustaining him.

Bromberg objected.

Beck, Randall and other Democrats demanded the yeas and nays on the resolution.

The Speaker ruled that objection being made the resolution was not before the House.

Bromberg then withdrew his objection but the Speaker decided it was too late, and the resolution was not received.

TEXT OF THE CALL FOR AN INDIGNATION MEETING IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, Jan 7th.

The following address was issued:

To the citizens of New York: To-day's Associated Press dispatches of the events which took place in our sister city of New Orleans present the most marked attack upon the rights of American citizenship which has ever been made since the establishment of our Government. A legislative body of our sister State, peaceably assembled, has been broken into and dispersed by Federal troops acting under orders from the President of the United States. To give expression to the outraged feelings which every citizen of a free commonwealth must experience at a crime, happily in this country so unparalleled, against the underlying principles of our Government, we ask you to assemble irrespective of party ties at Cooper Institute on Monday evening, Jan 11th.

Wm C Bryant, Wm H Wickham, Wm M Evarts, Wm B Duncan, August Belmont, Manton Marble, Whitelaw Reid, Charles A Dana, Sydney Webster and others.

SENATOR GORDON'S REPLY TO TELEGRAMS FROM LOUISIANA

WASHINGTON, Jan 7—Senator Gordon has sent the following general reply to numerous telegrams received by him from New Orleans:

"To Governor McEnery, Lieutenant-Governor Penn, R H Marr: I congratulate you on your forbearance in every wrong and if arrests and handcuffs are resorted to still forbear, and your rights will be vindicated by the American people. You cannot better subserve the interests of Louisiana, of the South generally and of liberty than by continued forbearance even unto death."

THE NEW YORK TIMES ON SHERIDAN'S BANDITTI DISPATCH

NEW YORK, Jan 7—The Times condemns Sheridan's conduct in New Orleans, which is evidently controlled by a belief that he is dealing with a community in a state of insurrection, where martial law is the only method which can properly be applied to it. The Times says there are no publicly known facts justifying this outrage by Sheridan's banditti dispatch. It could scarcely be warranted under any conceivable facts. Nothing like it ever has been seen before under any circumstances. Sheridan could scarcely have shown greater ignorance or disregard of law if he had proposed that the President declare the Constitution a failure, disperse Congress, silence all newspapers, proclaim himself dictator and Sheridan sole minister and chief executioner. The Times denies that the Republican party is responsible for Sheridan's vagaries.

MESSAGE OF GOV GASTON.

BOSTON, Jan 7—Gov Gaston in his message strongly pronounces against the encroachment of federal power on the rights of States and urges a return to amicable relations as the only guarantee for the peace and prosperity of the nation at large.

GOV ALLEN'S MESSAGE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan 7—Gov Allen sent a message to the Legislature to-day which was referred to the committee on federal relations, calling their attention to the circumstances of the recent federal military interference with the Legislature of Louisiana, and saying that if such acts are legal and proper there, they would be here, and that it appears to him to be the duty of the representatives of the people of Ohio to at once enter a strong protest against an action that may be made a precedent in future times for the overthrow of civil government in Ohio. And if, he says, there is law warranting the settling of contested election cases in State Legislatures by the use of federal troops, then in my judgment you should [illegible] its immediate repeal. If there is no law for it, then your indignant protest should be heard at Washington, insisting upon such action by Congress as will prevent in the future such flagrant outrages against civil liberty.

THE INDIANA SENATOR

SHALL IT BE THE TALL SYCAMORE OF THE WABASH

Dan Voorhees, the "Tall Sycamore of the Wabash," is a prominent pretender to the Indiana Senatorship in place of Pratt, whose term expires in March. Dan seems to have some show of success, notwithstanding that he was beaten so badly for Congress two years ago. McDonald, his principal competitor, is unable to carry his own county delegation. The Chicago Times has this in relation to the contest:

The sum of the whole matter is that McDonald, being in favor of returning to honest money and keeping faith with the public creditors, is not an Indiana Democrat, and Mr Voorhees, being in favor of any quantity of irredeemable paper and repudiation of the debt contracted for the purpose of whipping his Democratic friends on the other side of Mason and Dixon's line, is a good Indiana Democrat. If a Senator ought to be a fair representative of his party, then ought Dan Voorhees by all means to be elected Senator by the Democratic Legislature of Indiana. He is by far the best representative of the [illegible] of Southern extraction who constitute the Democratic party of Indiana. The only tie that binds such men as McDonald and Kerr to the party is a senseless and savage hatred of the damnigger and a determination that he shall never exercise his equal rights if by any means they can prevent. In all other respects they are very far from being Indiana Democrats.

THE BURNING MINE EXTINGUISHED.—The Allentown (Penn) Register says that the explorers have reported that the last particle of fire had disappeared from the recent burning mine of the Wilkesbarre Coal and Iron Company. This extinguishment is a triumph of steam as a means of putting out coal mine fires and has demonstrated its efficiency on a larger and more conclusive scale than ever before. The burning of this mine began months ago and the flames which were spread over an immense area were conquered only after combating them eight weeks and using all the steam that eight huge boilers, kept hot night and day, could supply to the tightly-sealed up mine.

A correspondent of the Inter Ocean says that the Wheeler Exploring Expedition has discovered a bug which all the learned men who have seen it pronounce it to be a "Damnimo Whattis," which has heretofore been supposed to exist only as a fossil.

[ADJOURNED MEETING, JAN. 12, 1875.]

The Common Council met pursuant to adjournment.

Present—W. S. Caldwell, clerk, J. H. Lappeus, Chief of Police; Councilmen Hesser, Catlin, Hoyt, Moreland, and Story. Absent—Councilmen Corbett, Lyon, Russell and Thompson.

The Clerk called the Council to order, and the Mayor being absent, Councilman Story was chosen President pro tem.

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, ETC.

The petition of E. R. Smith and others, asking that H. C. Gordon be appointed pound-master, was read and referred to the committee on health and police.

CHIEF ENGINEER'S REPORT.

The petition of M. F. Mulkey and 200 or more others, asking for the passage of an ordinance in relation to the establishment of water works in the city, was referred to the committee on judiciary.

A. B. Hallock, chief engineer of the fire department, submitted a report of the condition of the engine houses, engines and other apparatus belonging to the department, making several pertinent suggestions as to improvements and necessary repairs. The report was referred to the committee on fire and water.

His Honor Mayor Failing appeared and took his seat.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

The police commissioners submitted the following report, which was read and referred to the committee on health and police.

To the Hon. Mayor and Common Council of the City of Portland:

GENTLEMEN: We herewith submit to your [illegible] body our estimate of the necessary expenses of the police department for the year 1875:

One chief of police, at $125 per month	$1,500
Two captains of police, at $100 per month	2,400
Nine policemen, at $90 per month	9,720
Salary of commissioners, witness, jurors, etc.	1,000
Total expenses	$14,620

At the beginning of the year the police of the city consisted as follows: One chief of police, two captains of police, nine day and night policemen, and four special policemen without pay from the city.

In our judgment this force is considered sufficient to maintain good order and the prevention of crime at present. Should any emergency occur which will, in our judgment, require any increase in the police force you will be duly advised of the same.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SHUBRICK NORRIS,
JOHN R. FOSTER,
WM. WADHAMS,
Board of Police Commissioners for the city of Portland.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance authorizing the auditor to purchase real estate to be sold for delinquent street assessments, was read a first and second time, rule suspended, ordinance read a third time and passed.

An ordinance making a transfer of certain moneys from the Willamette river fund to the fund for interest on bonds, was read a first and second time.

An ordinance making an appropriation out of the fire department fund for the payment of expenses of the department, was read a first and second time.

Ordinance authorizing the auditor to borrow the sum of $7,500, at a rate not exceeding 1 per cent. per month, until such time as taxes shall be collected, to supply a deficiency in the fire department fund, was read a first and second time and laid over.

LAMP ORDERED.

The committee on fire and water was instructed to have a street lamp erected on the southwest corner of Park and Columbia streets, at a cost not exceeding $30.

On motion the Council adjourned.

The cheapest collar you can wear is the Elmwood, because it will keep clean longer than any other. Try it.

PAUSE WHILE YOU READ THIS! The season for [illegible] and hail has arrived and the cold [illegible] days and nights of winter will soon visit us. Every young man, old man and boy for that matter, likes to present a neat appearance when attending parties, the theater, or walking about the streets. They likewise desire to be well provided against the cold blasts of snow and rain. What contributes more to the personal appearance and comfort of a gentleman, or boy, than a nice nicely fitting suit of clothes, set off with a handsome warm overcoat? Why will any one be so foolish as to go without either, when BECK & WALDMAN have everything in that line. Beck & Waldman in laying in their immense fall and winter stock of Clothing have exercised great care, and selected with reference to the demands of trade. They have purchased their goods low and are determined not to be undersold. Let the public note this fact.

THE IMMIGRATION COMMISSIONERS.

LETTER FROM HON. WM. REID.

STATE BOARD OF IMMIGRATION,
PORTLAND, OREGON, 14 January, 1875.

To editors of the various newspapers in Oregon:

GENTLEMEN: I am directed by this board to ask you kindly to insert in your various publications the following address to the people of this State in regard to our immigration affairs.

Next to railroad connection with the East comes our immigration interests. Whatever political opinions you may all entertain, we feel that one and all of you are united upon the necessity of immigration, and hence we desire to ask you to lend your influence in cordially co-operating with us in carrying out the objects we have in view. Every section of the State will be benefited by a flow of immigration. California is making gigantic efforts to disseminate her advantages for settlement to our citizens in the Eastern States, and to the European nations. We unfortunately, as an Immigration Board, have no funds like those which California has voted for immigration purposes, and hence find it "up hill work" to push this State's interests abroad. But by one and all of you stirring up the people to the necessity of contributing liberally to the immigration fund, we may yet be able to cope with California in making Oregon's resources known abroad. Public spirit, if fully aroused to the advantages of immigration, may do more for the cause than even the State could have done had the Legislature voted us (which it did not) funds sufficient to carry on the immigration interests of Oregon.

I remain, gentlemen,
your obedient servant,
WILLIAM REID,
State Commissioner of Immigration.

To the people of Oregon: Entrusted by the Legislature to take charge of immigrants arriving in the State, and of inducing immigration from foreign countries to Oregon, without funds to enable us to do so, we are compelled to rely on the generosity of the public and solicit subscriptions for the objects we have in view.

The many letters we have received from sister States and foreign countries satisfy us that by carefully disseminating information abroad as to Oregon, and selecting for that purpose honorary State commissioners in these countries, a large immigration would result. Thousands in Europe and the United States are looking for a country with a combination of advantages, such as we possess, and who, if their attention was directed to Oregon, would come and settle amongst us. From Great Britain, we are informed by one of the gentlemen lately appointed an emigration commissioner and who recently visited us, that many of the small farmers with means are desiring authentic information about Oregon but cannot procure the same. Again, complaints are made that when emigrants do arrive amongst us, we give them neither attention, guidance nor information, and do not tell them where to get government, State or farm lands; and, as a natural consequence, they discourage their friends, who would have followed them, from coming here. In every overland train on the Pacific railway there are on board a number of emigrants destined for Oregon who are turned back in California for want of authentic information about our State. From New Zealand and Australia (Great Britain's colonies), we have also letters enquiring as to our country. It is to supply these wants and to attend to immigration generally that we, at the Governor's request, accept office as honorary immigration commissioners. But while we and the committee of [illegible] appointed by the board of trade to assist us, do cheerfully give our services gratuitously, we cannot nevertheless carry on an immigration scheme for the benefit of this State without funds. Already we have had appointed Emigration Commissioners in a few foreign countries who are crying out for printed matter, statistics, pamphlets, etc. These we cannot supply without money, and seeing the legislature has voted nothing toward the objects in view, we must appeal to the citizens of Oregon to contribute liberally.

We would especially ask contributions from Portland, Salem, Albany, Corvallis, Eugene City, Astoria and all other towns in the State, who feel an interest in immigration. Immigrants come here as a rule, not to settle in Portland, but in the country districts amongst the farmers, and consequently all the country towns will be much benefited by immigration.

We would also recommend (1) that every county seat arrange a committee of immigration, to whose care we would forward immigrants for guidance and assistance; and (2) that the people of every county raise funds amongst themselves to print a small pamphlet descriptive of the county's local advantages for settlers and send the same to us for distribution abroad, on the steamers, and among immigrants when they arrive. The county so contributing funds toward giving immigrants information of its lands, etc., in this way will secure entirely the benefit of its [illegible].

Another mode in which the people will materially aid our labors and benefit immigrants, is by informing us of all situations vacant, or where employment can be obtained in the different portions of the State. Many immigrants call upon us enquiring where labor may be obtained, who would for themselves thus be comfortably provided and would also be developing the State.

We have secured a favorable contract with one of the Atlantic Steamship Companies for European emigrants, and are negotiating with the various railroad companies for reduced emigrant passages to Oregon. All the railroad and steamship companies within the State have generously agreed to convey immigrants to all parts of the interior at half the usual rates.

There are other objects which we are carrying out, or have in view, relative to immigration, of which we will hereafter inform you; meantime, for the information of the people, the following is the organization we have adopted:

OBJECTS OF THE STATE BOARD OF IMMIGRATION.

1. To receive immigrants arriving in the State; give them advice and guidance to settle, according to their occupations and circumstances.
2. To procure from the railroad and transportation companies for immigrants proceeding to the interior, cheap steamer and railroad fares.
3. To print authentic information as to the various counties of this State, for gratuitous circulation, to be handed to immigrants on their arrival.
4. To forward abroad and to the other States, samples of the various grains, fruits, lumber and other products of this State.
5. To keep a record and maps, for use of immigrants, of the State, public and private lands and farms for sale; the Board in no way undertaking sales of such lands, but simply referring immigrants to the owners, or agents of owners.
6. To keep a Labor Record, where all employes wishing male or female servants and skilled labor may enroll their names and wants; which record shall be open to and be examined by immigrants wishing situations.
7. To distribute in the United States and foreign countries pamphlets, statistics and details of the State's resources, and also to forward same to the State's Immigration Commissioners in Europe and elsewhere.
8. To procure, at the request and expense of any citizen desiring it, whatever agricultural or skilled labor he may wish from abroad, through the State's honorary commissioners, and forward to them conditions for settlement of small colonies wished by citizens.
9. To attend to all other legitimate immigration matters for the benefit of this State not herein embraced.

In carrying out these desirable objects we feel that we are not personally able to undertake all the duties required, and accordingly the Board of Trade of Portland have at our request appointed an immigration committee of six, who have generously agreed to give us their assistance and co-operate with us.

But, as already stated, the citizens generally ought also now to assist us. Every resident of Oregon will directly or indirectly be benefited by immigration, and hence one and all must cheerfully contribute to the best of their ability.

With that view the following gentlemen have been appointed to collect subscriptions in our city:

Portland—E. J. Northrup, Jas. A. Strowbridge, upper ward; D. W. Williams, P. W. Gillette, middle ward; Capt. Ankeny, George V. James, lower ward.

Salem—C. A. Reed, R. M. Wade, Jas. Clark.

Albany—Thomas Monteith, W. P. Burkhart, Geo. R. Helm.

Eugene City—J. B. Underwood.

We would respectfully recommend that citizens in their several localities select a committee to receive subscriptions for the printing of their county pamphlets, and for the purpose of publishing a general pamphlet by the State Commissioners, subscriptions for which general pamphlet should be forwarded direct to this Board.

EMIGRATION FROM SCOTLAND.

LETTER TO WM. REID, ESQ., FROM H. C. LEONARD, NOW IN DUNDEE.

DUNDEE, Dec. 31, 1874.

Mr. Wm. Reid, Portland—DEAR SIR: I have the pleasure of informing you that I reached your old home, "Bonnie Dundee," about a week since, after a very pleasant trip across, for a winter passage.

I have met many of your friends, who have inquired after you, and particularly our mutual friend Fleming, in whose office I am now writing this. I am induced to write you at this time partly to give you my impressions regarding the importance of the Board of Immigration, (of our Board of Trade) giving some attention in this direction. Dundee is the only place I have yet found in Scotland where Oregon seems to be known and appreciated, and, of course, I can only attribute it to the cause of your efforts in giving the people here the information you have regarding our resources and its desirability for emigrants seeking new homes.

I have noticed (in the Bulletin) the report of the committee on emigration, and see that an effort will be made to raise a fund by voluntary subscription to effect something (inasmuch as the State failed to respond at the last session of the Legislature.)

Now if anything is done in this way I am fully convinced that a portion of it had better find its way in this direction. I find Mr. Fleming up to his eyes in business, answering inquiries and in procuring passages and sending off emigrants bound to New Zealand, Australia, Canada and elsewhere as well as to Oregon. I have frequently, within the past few days, heard him give people directions how to get to our State, and information generally in reference to it. I find in this office maps of railroad routes throughout the United States; maps of Oregon, of the city of Portland, etc., etc.,—something I found no where else since I left Portland, save within the office of your company here.

To show you and the committee of our board what efforts the colony of New Zealand put forth to induce emigration there, I send you the enclosed circular.

I have had some considerable conversation with Mr. Fleming upon this subject. He tells me there is a growing interest manifested towards Oregon. In my opinion he should be supplied with the means of distributing information in a printed form, and be paid for his services. As it is in his direct line of business, of course he can accomplish more than any other person, being a government emigration agent, and is quite familiar with Oregon himself. I am [illegible] that the same amount of money cannot be better spent than by furnishing him the means of publishing at least 5,000 pamphlets and distributing the same, and remunerating him for his services. He can compile and revise the same here himself, from the different essays, etc., etc., all of which he has, and adding such additional information as he should think best.

I hope you will call the attention of our Board to this, and you are at liberty to read this to them if you like.

I am much pleased to see that our Columbia river salmon is so generally introduced into these markets; and [illegible] they are to be seen piled up in good quantities in almost all the provision and grocery stores of Glasgow and Dundee. They are considered very fine, and a popular article of food in the market. If there was anything I did not expect to see on the banks of the river Tay, in Scotland, it was salmon from Oregon. There is a market here for our surplus beef, as well. Capt. West, I learn, has already taken the initiative in this enterprise, and I predict he will be successful.

I remain, very truly yours,
H. C. LEONARD.

[illegible] Circular.

Enclosed in the above letter Mr. Leonard sends the following circular:

From the great demand which now exists in the colony for all kinds of labor the agent general will grant free passages to farm laborers and female domestic servants (without undertaking for payment of cost of passage), and assisted passages to mechanics and other eligible persons. Average rates of wages in Queensland: Stone masons, 9s per day; bricklayers, 10s; carpenters and joiners, 12s to 14s; plasterers, 10s to 12s; blacksmiths, 10s to 12s; shepherds, a year, with rations, £35 to £50; grooms, a year, with rations, £40 to £50; farm servants, with rations, £40 to £50; married couples, with service of wife, double rations, £50 to £60; servant maids, a year, with board and lodging, £20 to £40. Rations are generally 8 lbs. flour, 12 lbs. beef, 2 lbs. sugar, ¼ lb. tea (weekly), or as may be agreed upon. Cost of provisions in Queensland: Fresh beef, 2d to 3d per lb.; best fresh mutton, 2d to 3d per lb.; salt beef, 3d per lb.; tea, 2s per lb.; bacon, 1s 2d per lb.; potatoes, [illegible] per cwt.; flour, [illegible] per cwt.; soap (Colonial), 5d per lb. Free education in the government schools is now provided throughout the colony, all fees having been abolished in 1869. A monthly dispatch of ships. For further particulars and form of application apply to the local agent, Mr. P. Fleming, 41 Reform street, Dundee.

FATAL INFATUATION.

Do not, as you value life, entertain the idea that a cough is one of those casual local affections which require but little attention. This species of infatuation is fatal to thousands. A cough is the first warning of consumption, remember that. Annihilate the danger by extinguishing the complaint. The means await you at every drug store. HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR will, in every instance, effect a perfect cure of the threatening ailment without causing nausea, for it is pleasant to the palate as well as infallible.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Two fire alarms last night.

A burning flue called out the fire department last evening.

Wood is very scarce and commands a good price, and hard to get at that.

But few sleighs were out yesterday. Too much wind and cold stirring.

The Stark street ferry [illegible] ked dolefully on the cable as it p[illegible] to and fro yesterday.

Owing to the frozen condition of the track the east side train was delayed half an hour yesterday.

After being relieved of her present cargo, the steamer Gussie Telfair will be tied up for the present.

The contest between the Alka and Hesperian literary societies at Salem will take place next Friday evening.

The pilots who come up the Columbia these days aver that the wind is sharper than any two-edged sword.

For some reason the steamer Vancouver did not make her usual trip yesterday to the mouth of the river.

Last night the thermometer stood at 3° above zero—lower than it was ever before known to be in this city.

At Yreka, yesterday morning, the telegraph announced that the thermometer stood at 34° above zero, and it was snowing.

Col. John McCraken has been appointed resident agent of the San Francisco Board of Marine Underwriters, vice Henry Rhodes.

Governor Grover appointed Carl Spuhn, Esq., honorary commissioner of emigration to reside at Remagen on the Rhine, for Rhenish Prussia.

It was so bitter cold yesterday that express, truck and dray drivers could not ride, but in most instances were compelled to walk by the side of their teams.

Multnomah Fire Co's engine was moved into the new house yesterday, the extreme cold weather being too much for the engineer. In the event of a fire alarm, members of that company will know where to go.

Chief Engineer Hallock was out yesterday carefully examining the hydrants and cisterns and making every possible provision in the event of a fire. With but few exceptions he found everything in a satisfactory condition.

We would caution our citizens, during the present spell of weather, to observe great care in regard to fires. Should a fire get started now the disastrous consequences would be alarming to think of. Every possible precaution against fire should be taken.

The Chemistry of the Stomach.

As in the more delicate processes of the laboratory, it is essential that the re-agents employed to produce [illegible] changes in matter should be uncontaminated, so also it is imperatively necessary that the fluids of the stomach, which act chemically upon the food, should be perfectly pure. When the stomach is acid, it is because those fluids are vitiated or diluted. Similarly, other forms of indigestion arise from a deficiency of the chemical properties of the gastric juices. The most direct and [illegible] way to restore their purity and improve their quality, is to take before each meal a wineglassful of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which corrects acidity, renders digestion complete and painless, and overcomes the constipation which it [illegible]. THE IMMIGRATION COMMISSIONERS.

LETTER FROM HON. WM. REID.

STATE BOARD OF IMMIGRATION,
PORTLAND, OREGON, 14 January, 1875.

To editors of the various newspapers in Oregon:

GENTLEMEN: I am directed by this board to ask you kindly to insert in your various publications the following address to the people of this State in regard to our immigration affairs.

Next to railroad connection with the East comes our immigration interests. Whatever political opinions you may all entertain, we feel that one and all of you are united upon the necessity of immigration, and hence we desire to ask you to lend your influence in cordially co-operating with us in carrying out the objects we have in view. Every section of the State will be benefited by a flow of immigration. California is making gigantic efforts to disseminate her advantages for settlement to our citizens in the Eastern State, and to the European nations. We unfortunately, as an Immigration Board, have no funds like those which California has voted for immigration purposes, and hence find it "up hill work" to push this State's interests abroad. But by one and all of you stirring up the people to the necessity of contributing liberally to the immigration fund, we may yet be able to cope with California in making Oregon's resources known abroad. Public spirit, if fully aroused to the advantages of immigration, may do more for the cause than even the State could have done had the Legislature voted us (which it did not) funds sufficient to [illegible] on the immigration interests of Oregon.

I remain, gentlemen,
your obedient servant,
WILLIAM REID,
State Commissioner of Immigration.

To the people of Oregon: Entrusted by the Legislature to take charge of immigrants arriving in the State, and of inducing immigration from foreign countries to Oregon, without funds to enable us to do so, we are compelled to rely on the generosity of the public and solicit subscriptions for the objects we have in view.

The many letters we have received from sister States and foreign countries satisfy us that by carefully disseminating information abroad as to Oregon, and selecting for that purpose honorary State commissioners in these countries, a large immigration would result. Thousands in Europe and the United States are looking for a country with a combination of advantages, such as we possess, and who, if their attention was directed to Oregon, would come and settle amongst us. From Great Britain, we are informed by one of the gentlemen lately appointed an emigration commissioner and who recently visited us, that many of the small farmers with means are desiring authentic information about Oregon but cannot procure the same. Again, complaints are made that when emigrants do arrive amongst us, we give them neither attention, guidance nor information, and do not tell them where to get government, State or farm lands; and, as a natural consequence, they discourage their friends, who would have followed them, from coming here. In every overland train on the Pacific railway there are on board a number of emigrants destined for Oregon who are turned back in California for want of authentic information about our State. From New Zealand and Australia (Great Britain's colonies), we have also letters enquiring as to our country. It is to supply these wants and to attend to immigration generally that we, at the Governor's request, accept [illegible] honorary immigration commission. But while we give the committee of [illegible] appointed by the board of [illegible], we do cheerfully give our services [illegible], cannot nevertheless carry out an [illegible] scheme for the benefit of this State without funds. Already we have had appointed Emigration Commissioners in a few foreign countries who are crying out for printed matter, statistics, pamphlets, etc. This we cannot supply without money, and seeing the legislature has voted nothing toward the objects in view, we must appeal to the citizens of Oregon to contribute liberally.

We would especially ask contributions from Portland, Salem, Albany, Corvallis, Eugene City, Astoria and all other towns in the State, who feel an interest in immigration. Immigrants come here as a rule, not to settle in Portland, but in the country districts [illegible] the farmers, and consequently all the country towns will be much benefited by immigration.

We would also recommend (1) that every county seat arrange a committee of immigration, to whose care we would forward immigrants for guidance and assistance; and (2) that the people of every county raise funds amongst themselves to print a small pamphlet descriptive of the county's local advantages for settlers and send the same to us for distribution abroad, on the steamers, and among immigrants when they arrive. The county so contributing funds toward giving immigrants information of its lands, etc., in this way will secure entirely the benefit of its [illegible]

Another mode in which the people will materially aid our labors and benefit immigrants, is by informing us of all situations vacant, or where employment can be obtained in the different portions of the State. Many immigrants call upon us enquiring where labor may be obtained, who would for them [illegible] thus be comfortably provided and would also be developing the State.

We have secured a favorable contract with one of the Atlantic Steamship Companies for European emigrants, and are negotiating with the various railroad companies for reduced emigrant passages to Oregon. All the railroad and steamship companies within the State have generously agreed to convey immigrants to all parts of the interior at half the usual rates.

There are other objects which we are [illegible] out, or have in view, relative to immigration, of which we will hereafter inform you; meantime, for the information of the people, the following is the organization we have adopted:

OBJECTS OF THE STATE BOARD OF IMMIGRATION

1. To receive immigrants arriving in the [illegible], give them advice and guidance to settle, according to their occupations and circumstances.
2. To procure from the railroad and transportation companies for immigrants proceeding to the interior, cheap [illegible] and railroad fares.
3. To print authentic information as to the various counties of this State, for gratuitous circulation, to be handed to immigrants on their arrival.
4. To forward abroad and to the other States, samples of the various grains, fruits, lumber and other products of this State.
5. To keep a record and maps, for use of immigrants, of the State, public and private lands and farms for sale, the Board in no way undertaking sales of such lands, but simply referring immigrants to the owners, or agents of owners.
6. To keep a Labor Record, where all employes wishing male or female servants and skilled labor may enroll their names and wants; which record shall be open to and be examined by immigrants wishing situations.
7. To distribute in the United States and foreign countries pamphlets, statistics and details of the State's resources, and also to forward same to the State's Immigration Commissioners in Europe and elsewhere.
8. To procure, at the request and expense of any citizen desiring it, whatever agricultural or skilled labor he may wish from abroad, through the State's honorary commissioners, and forward to them conditions for settlement of small colonies wished by citizens.
9. To attend to all other legitimate immigration matters for the benefit of this State not herein embraced.

In carrying out these desirable objects we feel that we are not personally able to undertake all the duties required, and accordingly the Board of Trade of Portland have at our request appointed an immigration committee of six, who have generously agreed to give us their assistance and co-operate with us.

But, as already stated, the citizens generally ought also now to assist us. Every resident of Oregon will directly or indirectly be benefited by immigration, and hence one and all must cheerfully contribute to the best of their ability.

With that view the following gentlemen have been appointed to collect subscriptions in our city:

Portland—E. J. Northrup, Jas. A. Strowbridge, upper ward; D. W. Williams, P. W. Gillette, middle ward; Capt. Ankeny, George V. James, lower ward.

Salem—C. A. Reed, R. M. Wade, Jas. Clark.

Albany—Thomas Monteith, W. P. Burkhart, Geo. R. Helm.

Eugene City—J. B. Underwood.

We would respectfully recommend that citizens in their several localities select a committee to receive subscriptions for the printing of their county pamphlets, and for the purpose of publishing a general pamphlet by the State Commissioners [illegible] subscriptions for which general pamphlet should be forwarded direct to this Board.

EMIGRATION FROM SCOTLAND.

LETTER TO WM. REID, ESQ., FROM H. C. LEONARD, NOW IN DUNDEE.

DUNDEE, Dec. 31, 1874.

Mr. Wm. Reid, Portland—DEAR SIR: I have the pleasure of informing you that I reached your old home, "Bonnie Dundee," about a week since, after a very pleasant trip across, for a winter passage.

I have met many of your friends, who have inquired after you, and particularly our mutual friend Fleming, in whose office I am now writing this. I am induced to write you at this time partly to give you my impressions regarding the importance of the Board of Immigration, (of our Board of Trade) giving some attention in this direction. Dundee is the only place I have yet found in Scotland where Oregon seems to be known and appreciated, and, of course, I can only attribute it to the cause of your efforts in giving the people here the information you have regarding our resources and its desirability for emigrants seeking new homes.

I have noticed (in the Bulletin) the report of the committee on emigration, and see that an effort will be made to raise a fund by voluntary subscription to affect something (inasmuch as the State failed to respond at the last session of the Legislature.)

Now if anything is done in this way I am fully convinced that a portion of it had better find its way in this direction. I find Mr. Fleming up to his [illegible] in business, answering inquiries and in procuring passages and sending off emigrants bound to New Zealand, Australia, Canada and elsewhere as well as to Oregon. I have frequently, within the past few days, heard him give people directions how to get to our State, and information generally in reference to it. I find in this office maps of railroad routes throughout the United States; maps of Oregon, of the city of Portland, etc., etc.,—something I found no where else since I left Portland, save within the office of your company here.

To show you and the committee of our board [illegible] of New Zealand put forth to induce emigration there, I send you the enclosed circular.

I have had some considerable conversation with Mr. Fleming upon this subject. He tells me there is a growing interest manifested towards Oregon. In my opinion he should be supplied with the means of distributing information in a printed form, and be paid for his services. As it is in his direct line of business, of course he can accomplish more than any other person, being a government emigration agent, and is quite familiar with Oregon himself. I am [illegible] that the [illegible] amount of money cannot be better spent than by furnishing him the [illegible] of publishing at least 5,000 pamphlets and distributing the same, and remunerating him for his services. He can compile and revise the same here himself, from the different [illegible], etc., etc., all of which he has, and adding such additional information as he should think best.

I hope you will call the attention of our Board to this, and you are at liberty to [illegible] this before them if you like.

I am much pleased to see that our Columbia river [illegible] is so generally introduced into the markets, and [illegible] they are [illegible] piled up in [illegible] quantities in [illegible] all the provision and grocery stores of Glasgow and Dundee. They are considered very fine, and a popular article of food in the market. If there was anything I did not expect to see on the banks of the river Tay, in Scotland, it was salmon from Oregon. There is a market here for our surplus beef, as well. Capt. West, I learn, has also [illegible] the initiative in this enterprise, and I predict he will be successful.

I [illegible], very truly yours,
H. C. LEONARD.

Enclosed in the above letter Mr. Leonard [illegible] the following circular:

From the great demand which now exists in the colony for all kinds of labor the [illegible] government will grant free passages to farm laborers and female domestic servants (without undertaking for payment of cost of passage), and [illegible] to mechanics and other eligible [illegible]. Average rates of wages in Queensland; Stonemasons, 9s per day; bricklayers, 10s; carpenters and joiners, 12s to 14s; plumbers, 10s to 12s; blacksmiths, 10s to 12s; shepherds, a year, with rations, £35 to £50; grooms, [illegible] £40 to £50; farm servants, with rations, £40 to £50, married couples, with service of wife, double rations, £50 to £60; [illegible] a year, with board and lodging, £20 to £[illegible]. Rations are generally 8 lbs. flour, 12 lbs. [illegible], 2 lbs. sugar, [illegible] tea (weekly), or as may be agreed upon. Cost of provisions in Queensland: Fresh beef, 2d to 3d per lb.; best fresh mutton, 2d to 3d per lb.; salt beef, 2d per lb.; tea, [illegible] per lb.; bacon, 1s 2d per lb.; potatoes, [illegible] per cwt.; flour, [illegible] per [illegible]; soap (Colonial), 5d per lb. Free education in the government schools is now provided throughout the colony, all fees having been abolished in 1869. A monthly dispatch of ships. For further particulars and form of application apply to the local agent, Mr. P. Fleming, 41 Reform street, Dundee.

For some reason the steamer Vancouver did not make her usual trip yesterday to the mouth of the river.

Last night the thermometer stood at 3° above zero—lower than it was ever before known to be in this city.

At Yreka, yesterday morning, the telegraph announced that the thermometer stood at 34° above zero, and it was snowing.

Multnomah Fire Co's engine was moved into the new house yesterday, the extreme cold weather being too much for the engineer. In the event of a fire alarm, members of that company will know where to go.

Chief Engineer Hallock was out yesterday carefully examining the hydrants and cisterns and making every possible provision in the event of a fire. With but few exceptions he found everything in a satisfactory condition.

We would caution our citizens, during the present spell of weather, to observe great care in regard to fires. Should a fire get started now the disastrous consequences would be alarming to think of. Every possible precaution against fire should be taken.

ABERNATHY.

SOME ANECDOTES OF THE GREAT PHYSICIAN.

In Abernethy, we come to one of those rough, eccentric physicians of whose kindness innumerable good stories are told. Like Dr. Johnson, he had a warm heart under a rough exterior. Though he could be absolutely brutal to fine ladies and affected misses, he is said to have been an amiable man, beloved of his family and friends. But to tiresome patients and malades imaginaries, he was at times the personation of rudeness; "Sir, that's enough; go home and read my book." To a [illegible] who complained of low spirits, he would say: "Don't come to me; go and buy a skipping-rope." Sometimes, however, he met his match. Curran one day came to consult him, and was rather diffuse in [illegible] points. "Sir," said Abernethy, "you had better tell me your whole life." Upon which Curran sat [illegible] seriously began: "I was born in [illegible], in the county of——, of Ireland;" Abernethy burst into a laugh, and entered [illegible] into his case. A lady determined to be brief and to humor the tyrant, one day [illegible] consulting room, and, thrusting out an injured hand, merely said: "My [illegible] sir." "You, madam," he exclaimed in admiration, "are the only sensible woman I ever had for a patient."

A gentleman, equally determined, being [illegible], locked the door, put the key in his pocket, and [illegible] on being heard. Abernethy smiled, and complimented the patient on his resolution. To a gentleman who gave him £20 to attend his wife, he said: "Are you the fool who gave me £20 the other [illegible]? Go home and tell your wife to dine earlier and eat less; and do you keep your money in your pocket, for no doctor's advice is worth £20." To a lady, he said severely: "Go home and tell your husband he will [illegible] this day six months."

Abernethy was no respecter of persons. Poor or rich, his patients had to submissively [illegible] terms, or they might go elsewhere. An angry nobleman once broke into his room, and [illegible] his rank and title in full, and asked Abernethy if he knew who he was. To this [illegible]: "And I, sir, am John Abernethy, Surgeon-lecturer of St. Bartholomew's, [illegible], etc.; and if you wish to consult me, I am ready now to hear what you have to say in return, sir." The Duke of Wellington, angry at having to wait his turn, [illegible]. Abernethy asked him how he had entered. "By the door, sir." "[illegible] the [illegible] doctor, "I recommend you to make you make your exit the [illegible] way." He is also said to have refused to [illegible] IV. till [illegible] at the [illegible]. The point on which Abernethy most insisted was the stomach, and the [illegible] important [illegible] he declares all [illegible] could be [illegible]. The celebrated biscuits which he used to eat and recommend [illegible] so called from him, but from the baker who first invented them. That there [illegible], who can deny who [illegible] has the story of how he returned all his fees to a poor widow who had consulted him, and [illegible] £50, to enable her to give her sick child a daily ride? He had a horror of [illegible]ations, and refused when the evil could be [illegible] without such rough and terrible remedies.—Chambers's Journal.

No [illegible] do Congressional inmates of boarding houses [illegible] for the [illegible], than the [illegible] who have been stowed away in garrets and in basements, regardless of the parlor, which they enjoy during the holidays. These boarding-house [illegible], by the way, are generally [illegible]. The thread-bare carpet [illegible] saw its best days at the British Legation; the rickety mahogany chairs, with [illegible], and the faded damask curtains, were familiar to those who used to [illegible] of the Muscovite Envoy [illegible] table sofa [illegible] at a sale of condemned furniture at [illegible] White House, and an escritoire must have been smuggled from a committee [illegible] in the Capitol. Maps and charts for [illegible] of the walls are procured from the departments, while the Congressional Library supplies books for the shelves, [illegible] binding. The landladies [illegible] the first families of Maryland, and full [illegible]. Their grown sons must be provided with clerkships [illegible] are to be [illegible] daughters are to be [illegible] in places as clerks in a department or [illegible] printing [illegible] friends [illegible] and some [illegible] threatening the committee [illegible] Congressional investigation by the [illegible] if any charge is made. [illegible] painting by Dickens of [illegible] can be easily [illegible] lodgers [illegible] to be absent [illegible] hotels for their [illegible] of whisky [illegible] rapidly.—Washington Cor. N. Y. [illegible]

A [illegible] CAR EPISODE.—The Uniontown (Pa.) [illegible] narrates this exciting incident: "A few nights ago a lady passenger on the [illegible] bound train, Connellsville route, engaged [illegible] one of the palace sleeping [illegible] she was ready to retire she [illegible] a gum bed, which she [illegible] the regular bed in the berth [illegible]. It happened that her berth was very [illegible] to the stove, and the night being rather cold, the porter fired up [illegible]. The heat from the stove caused [illegible] to expand until the [illegible] got so [illegible] that it collapsed with a tremendous [illegible] the [illegible] of a cannon, and, [illegible] their berths in [illegible] night clothes, thinking there was a collision. The force of the collapse threw the lady against the ceiling of the berth, but did not hurt her beyond a slight bruise. When the real state of affairs was known, and the lady found to be unhurt, the thing created [illegible] merriment among the passengers, and that lady [illegible] she will never take any [illegible] beds with her when she goes a [illegible]."

A [illegible].—A young married [illegible] in West [illegible] dreamed twice last [illegible] die at midnight on the first [illegible] of her wedding day, and so [illegible] was she impressed with the visions that she [illegible] made preparations for her funeral, and even gave a sum of money to a friend to purchase mourning. Her husband, becoming alarmed at her condition, consulted [illegible] friend, stating all the facts of the [illegible], after a minute's [illegible], discovered a way out of the difficulty. Telling the husband to keep the [illegible] as much as possible till late in [illegible] he went down to the house in the [illegible] and administered a harmless narcotic [illegible] kept the lady asleep until the [illegible] moment had passed. She is now in [illegible], and joins with her friends in [illegible] her superstitious fears.

[illegible].—The Cologne Gazette [illegible] the following paragraph: "The diplomatic body in Paris is excited by the unwel[illegible] that it is under police espionage. The two military attaches of the German [illegible], Major Billow and Capt. Theremin, had long had a French-Swiss servant, who [illegible] regular and trustworthy, but [illegible] simple and ignorant. On Herr [illegible] entering the servant's room one day during his absence, he found, concealed in an illustrated paper lying on the table a detailed report of his master's actions, addressed to M. Lombard, Commissioner of the Secret Branch of the Paris Police. The honest son of Helvetia was, of course, at once discharged, and his masters have made a strong [illegible] remonstrance to the Duc Decazes against the amiable attentions with which the French police have favored them."

A curious instance of the inutility of certain [illegible] shippers, and one of the incentives which the Western grangers have in their contest with railroad corporations, is the fact that merchandise can be shipped from St. Louis to New York city by rail, [illegible] to San Francisco via the Isthmus by [illegible] cheaper than from that city by rail. Thus freight is carried twice the distance, and yet eighty cents per hundred pounds in freight [illegible] is saved. The Union Pacific Railway Company has been for a long time endeavoring to make a compromise with the Pacific [illegible] whereby competition might be ended, but thus far with no result.

Latest Liverpool telegrams quote average California wheat ex-warehouse, 9s 6d per cental; Oregon, 9s 9d. Oregon cargoes for prompt shipment to Liverpool, are 9s to Cork, 9s 3d. The same advices declare there is no demand, and sales are difficult to make at the decline.

The terrible storm which is prevailing over the [illegible] northwest [illegible] is probably as [illegible] here as at any point in Oregon west of the Cascade Mountains, and all business is nearly suspended. Hence there is nothing transpiring in commercial matters to-day worthy of comment.

Shipping Intelligence.

There is now no probability that the Ajax will reach Portland this week.

The little schooner Mila Bond, from Tillamook, is making her way up the river, and may reach this port to-night.

The bark Muriel has her ballast well out, and can now be brought up through the slough.

The bark Corsica, a wheat vessel for this port, and another bark, name unknown, have arrived at Astoria.

The schooner Hera [illegible] not go down the river this morning as expected, on account of the bad weather.

The Commercial Herald of San Francisco says the charter of the British ship Paisee, to load wheat for Liverpool, was made at £3 16s.

The Mind Dependent on the Body.

Hypochondria is a far more common malady than is generally supposed. It has its degrees, it is true, progressing from mental depression, or the "blues," to mental hallucination; but they are all forms of the same malady. It is a significant fact that this mental ailment is invariably accompanied by dyspepsia and nervousness, and the fact that it readily yields to the alterative action of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which are peculiarly adapted to the eradication of indigestion and nervous debility, proves that it originates in those complaints. It will thus be seen how dependent the mind is upon the body for the preservation of a cheerful equilibrium, and also how readily the causes of mental gloom may be removed. There is no surer or pleasanter way of shaking off a fit of depression brought on by indigestion, than by swallowing a dose or two of this agreeable medicine.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.,

Practical and Analytical Chemists.

☞Sold by all Druggists and Dealers Generally.

DAVIS & SCHUYLER, Wholesale Agents, Portland, Oregon.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching, and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Buckingham's Dye,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown, or black at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

W. H. AIKEN, ATTORNEY AT LAW AND Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic in California and Nevada, will give prompt attention to the collection of Additional Travel Pay, now due California and Nevada Volunteers discharged more than three hundred miles from home. Soldiers can depend on fair dealing. Information given free of charge. When writing enclose stamp for reply and state company and regiment, and whether you have a discharge. Congress has extended the time for filing claims for additional Bounty under Act of July 28, 1866, to January, 1875, so all such claims must be made before that time. Original Bounty of $100 has been allowed all volunteers who enlisted before July 22d, 1861, for three years, if not paid the same when discharged. Land Warrants can be obtained for services rendered before 1855, but not for services in the late war. Pensions for late war and war of 1812 obtained and increased when allowed for less than disability warrants, but no pensions are allowed to Mexican and Florida war soldiers. State of Texas has granted Pensions to surviving veterans of Texas Revolution. New Orleans and Mobile Prize Money is now due and being paid. W. H. Aiken also attends to General Law and Collection Business.

[illegible] awful moment [illegible] was to set the culprit free or [illegible]. The ominous silence [illegible] to be broken by the [illegible], as the freed prisoner fell fainting [illegible] the arms of the gifted [illegible] him in triumph, as it were, [illegible] of the gibbet.

[illegible] next time I saw him was in San [illegible], in 1858, on the 28th of Sept [illegible]. The Golden City had on her holiday [illegible] to celebrate the laying of the Atlantic [illegible] by the British frigate Aga[illegible] the American ship Niagara. I had [illegible] the procession and was about to [illegible] the Metropolitan Theater to hear [illegible], when a friend warned me [illegible] the building was unsafe. While de[illegible] as to whether I should [illegible] precious bones in testing Joe Trench's [illegible] in architecture, Frank Pixley came [illegible] bare-headed and said, as he saw me: [illegible] come in quick; the old man's [illegible] like a God!"

[illegible] I obeyed him, and reached [illegible] auditory just in time to hear that [illegible] word-picture, the parting in [illegible] ocean of the two ships:

[illegible] the cable was first dropped in the deep [illegible] absorbing interest. Two stately [illegible] of distant and once hostile nations bore [illegible] freight. Meeting in mid ocean, [illegible] exchanged the courtesies of their gallant [illegible]—each bore the flag of St. George, [illegible] the flowing stripes and blazing [illegible] each deck that martial band bowed [illegible] in prayer to the great Ruler of the [illegible], exact in order, perfect in discipline; [illegible] the auspicious moment to seek the [illegible].
